Objection	Descriptiveness The Commissioner must not register a mark that describes a characteristic of the goods or services. A mark describes a characteristic of the goods or services if an ordinary person, when seeing the mark in relation to the goods or services, would understand the mark as describing, indicating, or calling to mind their nature or some attribute they possess. The Shorter Oxford Dictionary defines SNUG as: Marked or characterized by ease or comfort; comfortable, cosy.

	Close-fitting; tight. The mark SNUG BOOT therefore merely describes the nature of the goods for which you seek registration, such as footwear including boots which are comfortable. The mark SNUG BOOT also describes the nature of the goods for which you seek registration, such as footwear including boots which are close-fitting. The stylisation of the mark has been considered. However, we do not consider it sufficient to overcome the descriptive nature of the mark. Distinctiveness The Commissioner must also not register a trade mark that has no distinctive character. A trade mark has no distinctive character if it cannot serve the essential function of a trade mark which is to distinguish your goods and/or services from those of other traders. Given your mark's descriptiveness, we consider that other traders are likely, in the ordinary course of their business and without improper motive, to want to use your mark, or some mark resembling it, in relation to the promotion of their own goods or services.

17 Absolute grounds for not registering trade mark: general

- (1) The Commissioner must not register as a trade mark or part of a trade mark any matter—
- (a) the use of which would be likely to deceive or cause confusion; or
 - (b) the use of which is contrary to New Zealand law or would otherwise be disentitled to protection in any court; or
 - (c) the use or registration of which would, in the opinion of the Commissioner, be likely to offend a significant section of the community, including Māori.
- (2) The Commissioner must not register a trade mark if the application is made in bad faith.

 - (d) a trade mark that consists only of signs or indications that have become customary in the current language or in the bona fide and established practices of trade.
- (2) The Commissioner must not refuse to register a trade mark under subsection (1)(b), (c), or (d) if, before the date of application for registration, as a result of either the use made of it or of any other circumstances, the trade mark has acquired a distinctive character.

19 Relevance of colour to distinctive character of trade mark

- (1) In determining the distinctive character of a trade mark, the Commissioner or the court, as the case may be, must consider whether or not the trade mark is, or is to be, limited in whole or in part to 1 or more specified colours.
- (2) A trade mark that is, or is to be, registered without limitation of colour is, or will be, registered for all colours.

20 Trade mark that contains protected geographical indication must not be registered

- (2) Subsection (1) does not apply to a word that is used to denote only a brand or make of the element or compound made by the owner or a licensee of the trade mark, together with a suitable name or description open to the public use.

22 Registrability of trade mark that contains certain words

The Commissioner may register a trade mark that contains the words “copyright”, “layout design”, “patent”, “patented”, “plant variety right”, “registered”, “registered design”, or “trade mark”, or any abbreviations of those words, or any similar words.

23 Registrability of trade mark that contains person's name

If a person applies for registration of a sign as a trade mark and the sign contains the name or representation of a person, the Commissioner may require the written consent of—

- (a) that person unless the person died 10 years or more before the making of the application; or
- (b) the person's legal representative if—
 - (i) the person died within 10 years before the making of the application; or
 - (ii) the Commissioner thinks the person's consent cannot for any other reason be obtained.

24 Registrability of trade mark that contains representations of Royal Family

The Commissioner must not register a trade mark that contains a representation of Her Majesty or any member of the Royal Family, or an imitation of any such representation, unless the applicant has obtained the consent of Her Majesty or the relevant member of the Royal Family to the registration of the trade mark.

25 Registrability of identical or similar trade mark

- (1) The Commissioner must not register a trade mark (trade mark A) in respect of any goods or services if—

- (c) it is, or an essential element of it is, identical or similar to, or a translation of, a trade mark that is well known in New Zealand (trade mark D), whether through advertising or otherwise, in respect of those goods or services or similar goods or services or any other goods or services if the use of trade mark A would be taken as indicating a connection in the course of trade between those other goods or services and the owner of trade mark D, and would be likely to prejudice the interests of the owner.

- (2) section 26 overrides subsection (1).

27 Registrability of trade mark that contains representation of flag, etc, generally

- (1) If a person applies for registration of a sign as a trade mark and the sign includes a representation of the flag, armorial bearing, insignia, orders of chivalry, or decorations of any entity, the Commissioner may require that the applicant obtain the written consent of the person who appears to the Commissioner to be entitled to consent to the registration and use of the sign as a trade mark.

- (2) Despite subsection (1), the Commissioner may register a trade mark if the Commissioner considers that the use of the armorial bearing, flag, or other emblem, or the abbreviation or name, of the international organisation concerned in the manner proposed—
 - (a) is not likely to suggest to the public that a connection exists between the organisation and the trade mark; or
 - (b) is not likely to mislead the public as to the existence of a connection between the user and the organisation.

30 When emblems, etc, are protected under Paris Convention or TRIPS Agreement

For the purposes of section 28 and section 29, the State emblems (other than the national flag) of, or the official signs or hallmarks adopted by, a convention country, or the emblems, abbreviations, or names, of an international organisation, as the case may be, are protected under the Paris Convention or the TRIPS Agreement only if, or to the extent that,—
