Conflict with an earlier mark because of likelihood of confusion (Article 8(1)(b) EUTMR);

Conflict with an earlier identical or similar trade mark registered for goods or services which are not similar to those for which the international registration is registered, where the earlier mark has a reputation and where the use without due cause of the international registration would take unfair advantage of or be detrimental to, the distinctive character or the repute of the earlier trademark (Article 8(5) EUTMR).

The opposition is based on more than one earlier right: (see annex)

IV. The provisional refusal relates to all the goods and services covered by the designation of the European Union.

The Office will notify the opposition separately to the holder of the international registration, including all evidence on which it is based, pursuant to Article 6(1) EUTMDR. The Office will set time limits for the holder. The notification will open an (extendable) cooling-off period of two months and a further period of two months for the opponent to substantiate the opposition. The notification will set a time limit of, in principle, six months for the holder of the international registration to submit observations.

The Office will also set a time limit of two months for the holder to appoint a representative within the meaning of Article 120(1) EUTMR. Protection of the international registration for the European Union will be refused in whole if the holder fails to appoint a representative within the time limit.
