Section 54 – Certification mark draft regulations

Objection

We require draft regulations that govern the use of your certification mark before we can fully examine your application.

In accordance with Regulation 57 of the Regulations, you must file the draft regulations in a form acceptable to the Commissioner by 14 May 2020.

Please file appropriate draft regulations. Include these in your Objection Response.

The Regulations should include:

1. Provisions regarding the character of goods being certified;
2. The objective standard that is to be achieved before the use of the certification mark is permitted;
3. The means by which the applicant will control the use of the mark including –
 - the procedure whereby use of the mark will be granted in the first instance;
 - procedures to ensure that the standards are maintained; and
 - details regarding the surveillance and supervision that users of the mark will be subject to;
4. The right of appeal to an independent person or body in the event an application to seek licence is refused or if the license is revoked. An appropriate form of recourse is to use the Commissioner of Trade Marks as an independent authority;
5. A statement as to any fee structure; and
6. A statement as to the process involved in termination of licenses.

We will assess your draft regulations to determine whether they are acceptable. If the regulations are vague, or indicate that registration of your mark may result in restrictive trade practices, we may refuse registration of your mark or require amendments to your regulations.

Services This objection relates to all services claimed.

Relevant law The relevant provisions of New Zealand law are listed below at 11.

Section 14(b) – The applicant trades in the certified goods and/ or services

Objection Section 17(1)(b)(i) of the Act prohibits registration of any mark the use of which would be contrary to New Zealand law.

The applicant is the registered proprietor of the trade mark 661864 registered in classes 35, 36, 39, 41 and 42.

Section 14(b) of the Act states:

A certification trade mark in respect of goods or services

(b) may not be registered in the name of a person who carries on a trade in goods or in services of the kind certified.

The applicant's application for a certification mark in classes 42 may not be registered as the applicant trades in the same goods or services of which the certification mark is applied. It is therefore contrary to New Zealand law to register the certification mark.

Services This objection relates to all services claimed.

Relevant law The relevant provisions of New Zealand law are listed below at 11.

Identical or confusingly similar trade marks

Section 25(1) – Similar trade mark

Objection Our search of the trade marks register has revealed at least one trade mark that is similar to yours, and covers the same or similar goods or services. This mark has priority over yours.

For details of the similar mark, please see the attached search report.

Services This objection relates to all services claimed.

trade, to designate the kind, quality, quantity, intended purpose, value, geographical origin, time of production of goods or of rendering of services, or other characteristics of goods or services:

- (d) a trade mark that consists only of signs or indications that have become customary in the current language or in the bona fide and established practices of trade.
- (2) The Commissioner must not refuse to register a trade mark under subsection (1)(b), (c), or (d) if, before the date of application for registration, as a result of either the use made of it or of any other circumstances, the trade mark has acquired a distinctive character.

19 Relevance of colour to distinctive character of trade mark

- (1) In determining the distinctive character of a trade mark, the Commissioner or the court, as the case may be, must consider whether or not the trade mark is, or is to be, limited in whole or in part to 1 or more specified colours.

- (2) Subsection (1) does not apply to a word that is used to denote only a brand or make of the element or compound made by the owner or a licensee of the trade mark, together with a suitable name or description open to the public use.

The Commissioner may register a trade mark that contains the words “copyright”, “layout design”, “patent”, “patented”, “plant variety right”, “registered”, “registered design”, or “trade mark”, or any abbreviations of those words, or any similar words.

23 Registrability of trade mark that contains person's name

If a person applies for registration of a sign as a trade mark and the sign contains the name or representation of a person, the Commissioner may require the written consent of—

- (c) it is, or an essential element of it is, identical or similar to, or a translation of, a trade mark that is well known in New Zealand (trade mark D), whether through advertising or otherwise, in respect of those goods or services or similar goods or services or any other goods or services if the use of trade mark A would be taken as indicating a connection in the course of trade between those other goods or services and the owner of trade mark D, and would be likely to prejudice the interests of the owner.

(2) section 26 overrides subsection (1).

27 Registrability of trade mark that contains representation of flag, etc, generally

(1) If a person applies for registration of a sign as a trade mark and the sign includes a representation of the flag, armorial bearing, insignia, orders of chivalry, or decorations of any entity, the Commissioner may require that the applicant obtain the written consent of the person who appears to the Commissioner to be entitled to consent to the registration and use of the sign as a trade mark.

- (2) Despite subsection (1), the Commissioner may register a trade mark if the Commissioner considers that the use of the armorial bearing, flag, or other emblem, or the abbreviation or name, of the international organisation concerned in the manner proposed—
 - (a) is not likely to suggest to the public that a connection exists between the organisation and the trade mark; or
 - (b) is not likely to mislead the public as to the existence of a connection between the user and the organisation.

30 When emblems, etc, are protected under Paris Convention or TRIPS Agreement

For the purposes of section 28 and section 29, the State emblems (other than the national flag) of, or the official signs or hallmarks adopted by, a convention country, or the emblems, abbreviations, or names, of an international organisation, as the case may be, are protected under the Paris Convention or the TRIPS Agreement only if, or to the extent that,—
