Examination Report

Grounds for refusal

We have found that the mark is devoid of distinctive character, cf. the Danish Trade Marks Act, Section(13)(1)(2).

The sign "Health of joints is in reliable hands" is a slogan in English, which would be understood in Denmark. Joints would be understood as the connection between bones in the skeleton that enables the person to move legs, arms, fingers etc in different directions. Joints could be for instance knees or elbows. The words "reliable hands" would be seen in the meaning of competent or safe hands. Therefore, for the goods in class 5, the relevant public, doctors, pharmacists and also end-users, would merely see this sign as a laudatory term, indicating that joint-problems are well taken care of by using this product, and thus the sign is found to be non-distinctive.

Consequently, the mark is incapable of distinguishing the goods/services of one enterprise from those of another enterprise.

Please be informed that the Danish Trade Marks Act Section 13(2) allows for the registration of marks, which have acquired distinctiveness through use

Request for review of the provisional refusal

You may request a review of the provisional refusal within 4 months from the date of issue of the provisional refusal.

Please observe that documents or evidence submitted by you will be available to the public according to the regulations of The Danish Access to Public Administration Files Act.

A request for review should be sent by post or e-mail to:

Final refusal and appeal

If you do not reply within the time-limit, we will issue a final refusal, which is subject to appeal to the Board of Appeal for Patents and Trademarks.

If you do not appeal our final decision, we will publish the mark for the remaining goods/services, namely:

Class 35:

Advertising; business management; business administration; office functions.

Guide concerning Confusingly Similar Trademarks

The Danish Patent and Trademark Office has searched for marks applied for or registered in the Danish territory, which are confusingly similar to your trademark. We have assessed whether there is a likelihood of confusion between the marks, i.e. whether the marks are similar visually as well as phonetically and whether the goods and services covered by your application are identical with or similar to those covered by the earlier right. We refer to the Danish Trade Marks Act, section 15, containing rules concerning identical and confusingly similar trademarks.

If we have found conflicting marks we have included a search report as well as extracts of our register of any confusingly similar marks.

If we have found earlier rights you may consider the following options:

- to register your mark irrespective of the earlier right - or
- to limit the list of goods and services in order to avoid that your application covers goods and services similar to those covered by the earlier right - or
- to obtain a letter of consent from the proprietors of the earlier right permitting you to make use of and register your trademark in Denmark.

If we do not hear from you before the expiration of the time limit mentioned in our letter, we will register your trademark irrespective of the earlier rights, if any, mentioned in the search report.

Registration

Please be informed that the proprietor of the earlier right can file an opposition against the registration of your trademark if you choose to have your trademark registered irrespective of the earlier right.

Limitation

If the earlier right does not cover all the goods and services, for which your trademark is applied, you can limit your application in order to avoid that your application covers goods and services similar to those covered by the earlier right. You must file a new list of goods and services, if you wish to limit your application. Please be informed that we can assist you in connection with the wording of such a list.

Written consent

A written consent must be unconditional, and it must permit you to register the applied trademark for the goods and services covered by the application. If the consent does not include all goods and services applied for, you must limit your application in accordance with the consent. The letter of consent must be dated and duly signed by the proprietor of the earlier right. We can only accept a copy, if it is attested.

- (2) The goods and services for which protection is sought shall be identified by the applicant with sufficient clarity and precision to enable the Office and economic operators, on that sole basis, to determine the extent of the protection sought.

Examination of applications

Section 16

- (1) If the application does not comply with this Act or the provisions laid down pursuant to this Act, or if the Patent and Trade mark Office has other objections to the acceptance of the application, the Patent and Trade mark Office shall notify the applicant accordingly and invite him to file his observations within a specified time limit.

Section 13

(1) The following shall not be registered:

- (ii) Trade marks which are devoid of any distinctive character.

- 8) Trade marks which consist of, or reproduce in their essential elements, an earlier plant variety denomination protected by plant variety sort rights and which are in respect of plant varieties of the same or closely related species.
