Article 5. Signs of Which a Mark May Consist

A trade mark may consist of any signs, in particular words, including personal names, or designs, letters, numerals, colours, the shape of goods or of the packaging of goods, or sounds, provided that such signs are capable of:

- 1) distinguishing the goods or services of one undertaking from those of other undertakings;
- 2) being represented on the Register of Trade Marks of the Republic of Lithuania (hereinafter referred to as the Register) in a manner, which enables the competent authorities and the public to determine the clear and precise subject matter of the protection afforded to its proprietor.

Article 8. Relative Grounds for Refusal or Invalidation of Registration

1. A trade mark shall not be registered or, if registered, shall be declared invalid where the person concerned objects the application or the registration of a mark in accordance with Article 56 or 58 of this Law, if:

- 1) it is identical with an earlier mark, and the goods and/or services for which the mark is registered are identical with the goods and/or services for which the earlier mark is applied for or is registered;
- 2) because of its identity with or similarity to the earlier mark and the identity or similarity of the goods and/or services covered by the marks there exists a likelihood of confusion on the part of the public; the likelihood of confusion includes the likelihood of association with the earlier mark;
- 3) it is identical with or similar to an earlier trade mark irrespective of whether the goods or services for which it is applied for or registered are identical with, similar to or not similar to those for which the earlier trade mark is registered, where the earlier trade mark has a reputation in the Republic of Lithuania or, in the case of an EU trade mark, has a reputation in the European Union and the use of the later trade mark without due cause would take unfair advantage of, or be detrimental to, the distinctive character or the repute of the earlier trade mark;
- 4) an agent or representative, or a patent attorney of the proprietor of the trade mark applies for registration thereof in his own name without the proprietor's authorisation, unless the agent or patent attorney justifies his action;
- 5) it infringes other earlier rights, in particular:
 - a) a right to a name, artistic pseudonym of a known person;
 - b) a right of personal portrayal;
 - c) a copyright;
 - d) an industrial property right.

2. Earlier mark within the meaning of subparagraphs 1, 2 and 3 of paragraph 1 of this Article means:

- 1) a mark the date of filing of application for registration in the Republic of Lithuania of which is earlier than the date of filing of application for registration of the mark specified in paragraph 1 of this Article, taking account, where appropriate, of the priorities granted or claimed in respect of that mark;
- 2) a mark the date of registration whereof for the Republic of Lithuania under the Madrid Protocol is earlier than the date of filing of application for registration of the mark specified in paragraph 1 of this Article, taking account, where appropriate, of the priorities granted or claimed in respect of that mark;
- 3) a EU trade mark with a date of application for registration pursuant to the EU Trade Mark Regulation, which is earlier than the date of application for registration of the trade mark referred to paragraph 1 of this Article, taking account, where appropriate, of the priority claimed or granted;
- 4) a EU trade mark which claims seniority in accordance with the EU Trade Mark Regulation, from a trade mark referred to in subparagraph 1 or 2 of paragraph 2 of this Article, even when the latter trade mark has been surrendered or allowed to lapse;
- 5) applications for the trade marks referred to in subparagraphs 1 - 4, subject to their registration;
- 6) a mark which, on the date of application for registration of the trade mark specified in paragraph 1 of this Article, where appropriate, of the priority claimed in respect of the application for registration of the trade mark, is well known in the Republic of Lithuania.

3. If the person concerned contests the trade mark application or registration in accordance with Article 56 or 58 of this Law, the mark shall not be registered or, if registered, shall be liable to be declared invalid in the cases and to the extent that, pursuant to European Union legislation or the law of the Republic of Lithuania providing for protection of designations of origin and geographical indications when the following conditions are met:

- 1) an application for a designation of origin or a geographical indication had already been submitted in accordance with European Union legislation or the law of the Republic of Lithuania prior to the date of application for registration of the trade mark or the date of the priority claimed for the application, subject to its subsequent registration;
- 2) that designation of origin or geographical indication confers on the person the right to prohibit the use of a subsequent trade mark.

4. A mark shall be registered or registration of a trade mark shall not be declared invalid where the proprietor of the earlier trade mark or other earlier right consents to the registration of the later trade mark.

Article 38. Filing of an Application and Application Requirements

2. A representative may also file an application on behalf of an applicant. 2. The applicant or proprietor of the contested trade mark, or his representative must, within two months of the date of the opposition notice or the application for a declaration of invalidity or revocation, submit a justified reply. Failure to file a justified reply shall be considered as a refusal to participate in the examination of the opposition or the application for a declaration of invalidity or revocation and shall not prevent the Appeals Division from examining the relevant dispute in the absence of the applicant or proprietor of the contested mark, or his representative.

Article 69. Institutions having Jurisdiction in Disputes relating to Marks
