Definition	1.	In this Ordinance -“Trademark” – means a mark used, or intended to be used, by a person in relation to goods he manufactures or deals in;
Marks eligible for registration	8.	(a) No mark is eligible for registration as a trademark unless it is adapted to distinguish the goods of the proprietor of the mark from those of other persons (a mark so adapted being hereinafter referred to as a “distinctive mark”). (b) In determining whether a trademark is distinctive, the Registrar or the Court may, in the case of a trademark in actual use, take into consideration the extent to which such use has rendered such trademark in fact distinctive for goods in respect of which it is registered or intended to be registered.
Limitation to certain colors	9.	A trademark may be limited in whole or in part to one or more specified colors, and in such a case the fact that it is so limited shall be taken into consideration by the Registrar or Court having to decide as to the distinctive character of such trademark. If and so far as a trademark is registered without limitation of color, it shall be deemed to be registered for all colors.
The scope of registration	10.	(a) A trademark must be registered in respect of particular goods or classes of goods. (b) Any question as to the class within which any goods fall shall be determined by the Registrar, whose decision shall be final.
Marks ineligible for registration	11.	The following marks are not eligible for registration: (1) A mark referring to some connection with the President of the State or his household or to presidential patronage or a mark from which any such connection or patronage might be inferred; (2) Flags and emblems of the State or its institutions, flags and emblems of foreign states or international organizations, and any mark resembling any of these; (3) Public armorial bearings, official signs or seals used by any State to indicate control or warranty, and any sign resembling any of these and any sign from which it might be inferred that its proprietor enjoys the patronage of or supplies goods or renders services to a head of State or a Government, unless it is proved to the Registrar that the proprietor of the mark is entitled to use it; (4) Marks in which the following words appear – “patent”, “patented”, “by royal letters patent”, “registered”, “registered design”, “copyright”, “to counterfeit this is forgery” or words to like effect; (5) Marks which are or may be injurious to public policy or morality; (6) Marks likely to deceive the public, marks which contain false indications of origin and marks which encourage unfair trade competition; (6A) A mark containing a geographical marking in relation to goods that do not originate in the geographical area indicated, or a geographical marking that could be misleading in relation to the genuine geographical area of the origin of the goods; (6B) A mark containing a geographical marking that is verbally correct but contains a false representation to the effect that the goods originate in another geographical area;

		(7) Marks identical with or similar to emblems of exclusively religious significance;
		(8) A mark on which the representation of a person appears, unless the consent of such person has been obtained; in the case of the representation of a deceased person, the Registrar shall request the consent of his survivors unless, in his opinion, reasonable grounds exist for not doing so;
		(9) A mark identical with one belonging to a different proprietor, which is already on the register in respect of the same goods or description of goods, or so nearly resembling such a mark as to be calculated to deceive;
		(10) A mark consisting of numerals, letters or words which are in common use in trade, to distinguish or describe goods or classes of goods or which bear direct reference to their character and quality, unless the marks have a distinctive character within the meaning of Section 8(b) or 9;
		(11) A mark whose ordinary signification is geographical or a surname, unless represented in a special manner or unless having a distinctive character within the meaning of Section 8(b) or 9;
		(12) A mark that identifies wine or an alcoholic drink containing a geographical signification, if the origin of the wine or alcoholic drink is not in that same geographical area;
		(13) A mark that is identical to or resembles so as to deceive, a well known mark even if it is not a registered trademark, in relation to goods in respect of which the mark is well known or in respect of goods of the same description;
		(14) A mark that is identical to or resembles a well known trademark that is a registered trademark, and this even if it is in respect of goods that are not of the same description, if the mark whose registration is being requested could indicate a connection between the goods in respect of which the mark is required and the proprietor of the registered mark, and the proprietor of the mark is liable to be adversely affected as a result of the use of the requested mark.
Mark identical with name of other person	12.	The Registrar may refuse an application for registration of a trademark identical or resembling the name or business name of another person, or containing a name identical or resembling as aforesaid, if the mark is likely to deceive the public or to cause unfair competition.
Name or description of goods	13.	Where a mark also contains a name or description of any goods, the Registrar may refuse to register it in respect of other goods; but he may so register it if in actual use the mark varies according to the goods for which it is used, and the applicant adds a note to such effect on his application.
