Section 18. Opposition to the Registration of a Trade Mark

(1) Within three months from the date of the publication of a trade mark, interested persons may file with the Patent Office an application for opposition to the registration of a trade mark. The filing of the application for opposition, the progress and examination of it shall be executed/carried out according to the provisions of the Law on Industrial Property Institutions and Procedures.

[21 October 2004]/[19 November 2015]

Section 39. Validity of an International Registration in Latvia

(5) An application for opposition to the entry into effect of an international registration of a trade mark in Latvia, as provided for in Section 18 of this Law, shall be filed within four months from the date of publication of a notice of trade mark registration with respect to Latvia (territorial extension to Latvia) in the official gazette of international registration of trade marks.

(6) If, as a result of an examination, it is determined that an international trade mark does not comply with the requirements of Paragraph four of this Section, or if an opposition has been filed to such registration, the Patent Office shall, within the terms and in accordance with the procedures laid down in the rules on the international registration of trade marks, notify the International Bureau of the refusal of the particular international registration (provisional refusal). Within three months from the date on which the International Bureau has notified of the refusal, the owner of the international registration is entitled to submit a notice of appeal (a reply to the application for opposition) as provided for in Section 17.¹ of this Law.

[21 October 2004]/[19 November 2015]

Section 7. Earlier Trade Marks as Grounds for Invalidation of Trade Mark Registration

(1) A trade mark registration may be declared invalid in accordance with the provisions of this Law in the following cases:

1) it is identical to an earlier trade mark, and the goods or services in respect of which the trade mark was registered are identical to the goods or services in respect of which the earlier trade mark was registered;

2) in connection with its identity or similarity to, an earlier trade mark belonging to another person and the identity or similarity of the respective goods or services, there exists a likelihood of confusion of the trade marks or a likelihood of association between the trade marks on behalf of the relevant consumers.

(2) Earlier trade marks, within the meaning of Paragraph one of this Section are:

1) trade marks valid in Latvia, which have been registered under national or international registration procedures, or as European Community trade marks (hereinafter – Community trade mark) in accordance with Council Regulation (EC) No 207/2009 of 26 February 2009 on the Community trade mark (codified version) (Text with EEA relevance) (hereinafter – Council Regulation No 207/2009) if the date of application for registration thereof is earlier than the date of application for registration of the contested trade mark, also taking into account the priority accorded to those trade marks;

2) applications for the registration of trade marks referred to in the previous Clause, provided that they are registered.

[21 October 2004; 14 October 2010]

Article 39³. Additional Regulations for Protection of a Community Trademark

(1) An opposition to a trademark registration (Article 18) and a claim on the invalidation of a trademark registration (Article 31) apart from the rights referred to in Article 7, Article 8 and Article 9 of this Law can also be based upon an earlier identical or similar Community trademark that enjoys a good reputation in the European Community and that is registered in relation to the goods or services which are not similar to the goods and services for which the later (opposed) trademark is registered, but provided that the use of the later trademark, in the absence of appropriate justification, in relation to the goods or services enables to unfairly use the distinctive character or the reputation of the Community trademark or to injure them, or the consumers can perceive the use of such later trademark as an indication to the relation between those goods or services and the owner of the aforementioned Community trademark and such use could be detrimental to the interests of the owner of the Community trademark. Such opposition and such claim may be submitted by the owner of the Community trademark (their successor in title) or his representative.

(2) Unless stated otherwise in the Council Regulation No 40/94, the provisions of Articles 27 and 28 of this Law and the relevant regulations of the Civil Procedure Law and other statutory enactments shall be applied in the case of unlawful use of a Community trademark.

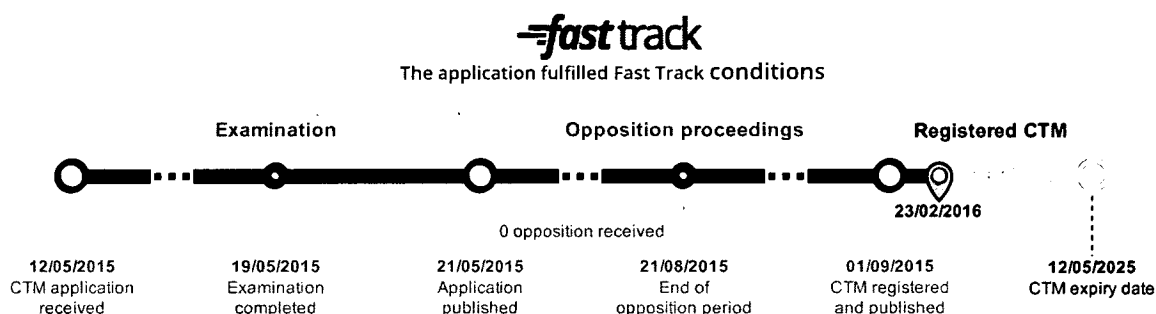

(3) If basing upon rights that follow from the Community trademark registration a later trademark registration that has been made pursuant to the trademark registration procedure prescribed by this Law or in accordance with the regulations on international registration and refers to Latvia is opposed, or if the use of such a later trademark is opposed, the provisions of Article 29 of this Law on restrictions of rights as a result of acquiescence shall be applied.
